

Election Results NSW 2019

Legislative Assembly

Winner: Liberal / National Coalition

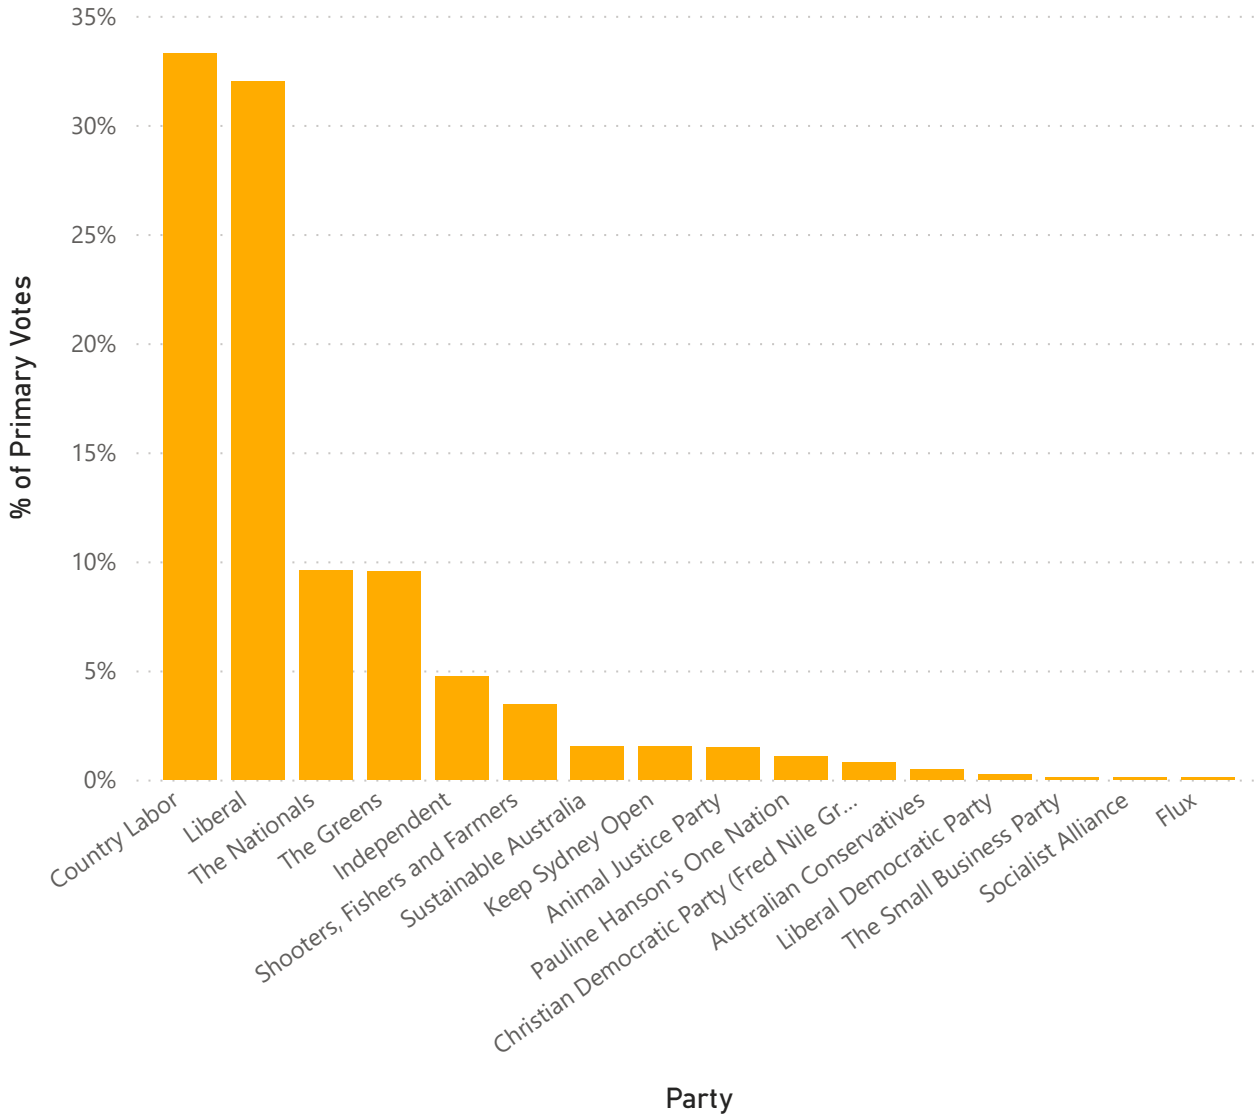

48

Seats won

Number of Seats Won

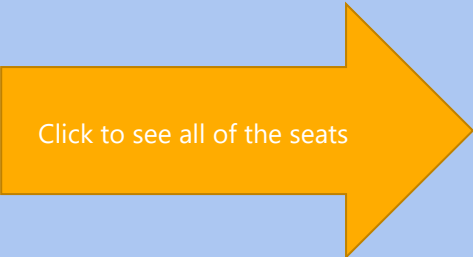

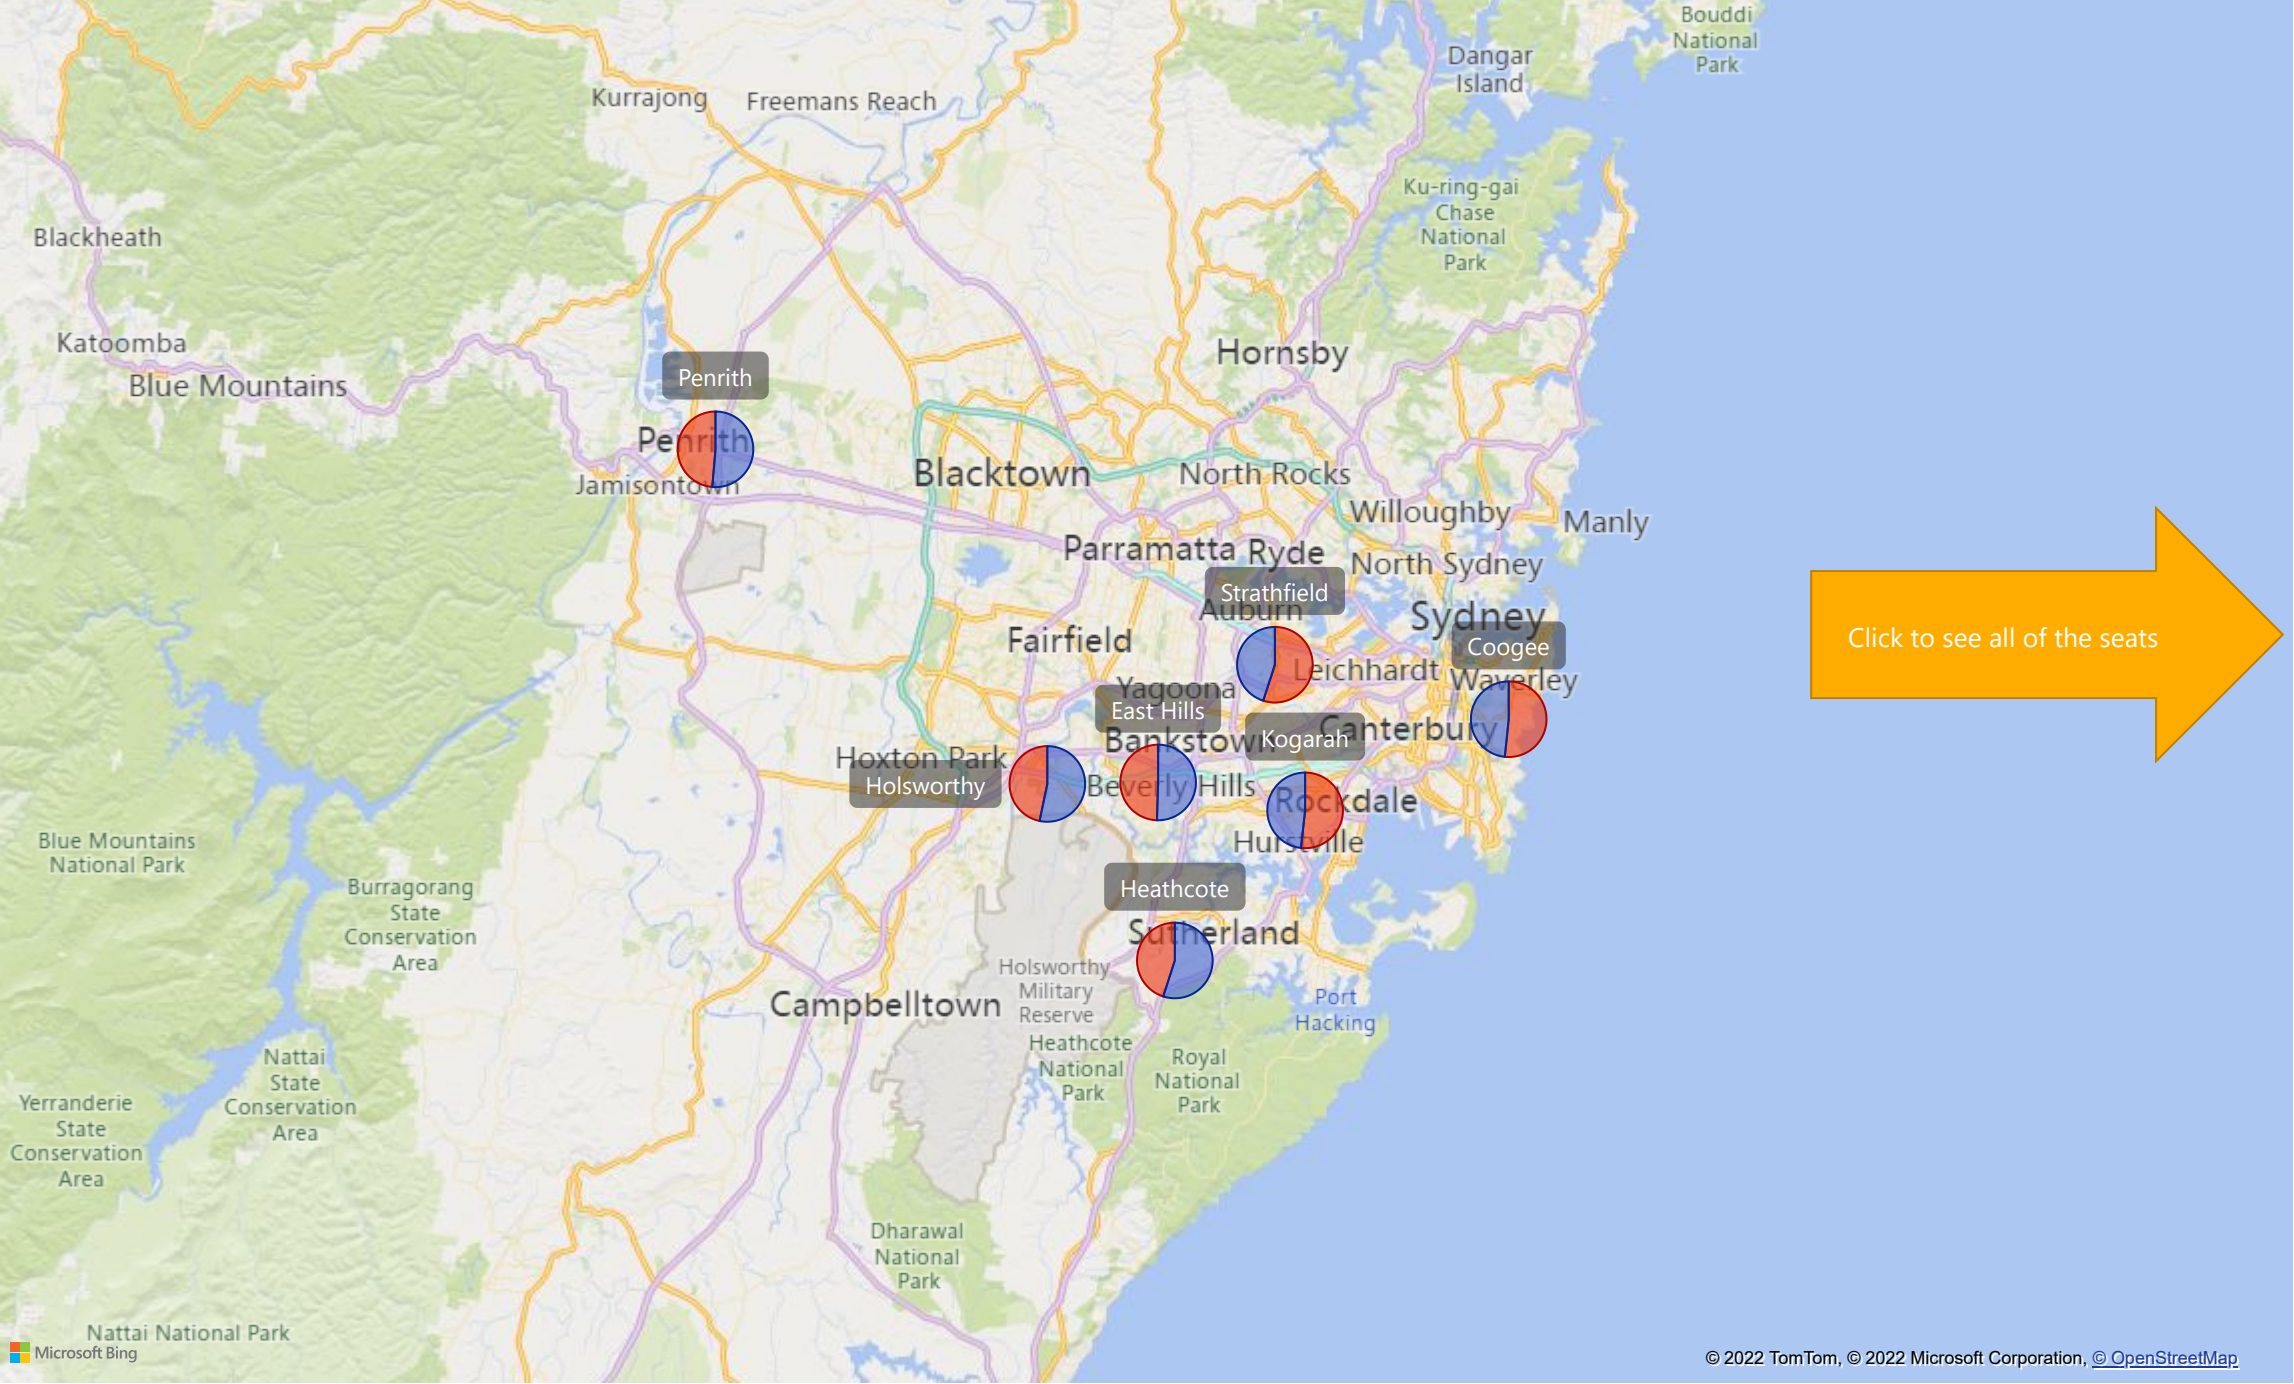

Party	Seats won
Country Labor	36
Liberal	35
The Nationals	13
Independent	3
Shooters, Fishers and Farmers	3
The Greens	3
Total	93

Percentage of Primary Votes by Party

Swinging Seats (Two-candidate preferred winner with less than 55% of the vote)

Swinging
Seats Off

← Lucky Politicians

Lucky. These lucky people did not get the most primary votes in their electorate, but were elected with preferences. *2CP = Two-candidate preferred.

Electorate Name	Party	Candidate Name	Primary Votes %	2CP Votes %
Ballina	The Greens	Smith, Tamara	31.71%	55.42%
Coogee	Country Labor	O'Neill, Marjorie	34.36%	51.64%
Lismore	Country Labor	Saffin, Janelle	25.61%	51.35%

Unlucky. Here are the corresponding unlucky candidates. They received the greater primary vote, but missed out once preferences were taken into account.

Electorate Name	Party	Candidate Name	Primary Votes %	2CP Votes %
Ballina	The Nationals	Franklin, Ben	37.01%	44.58%
Coogee	Liberal	Notley-Smith, Bruce	41.14%	48.36%
Lismore	The Nationals	Curtin, Austin	39.68%	48.65%

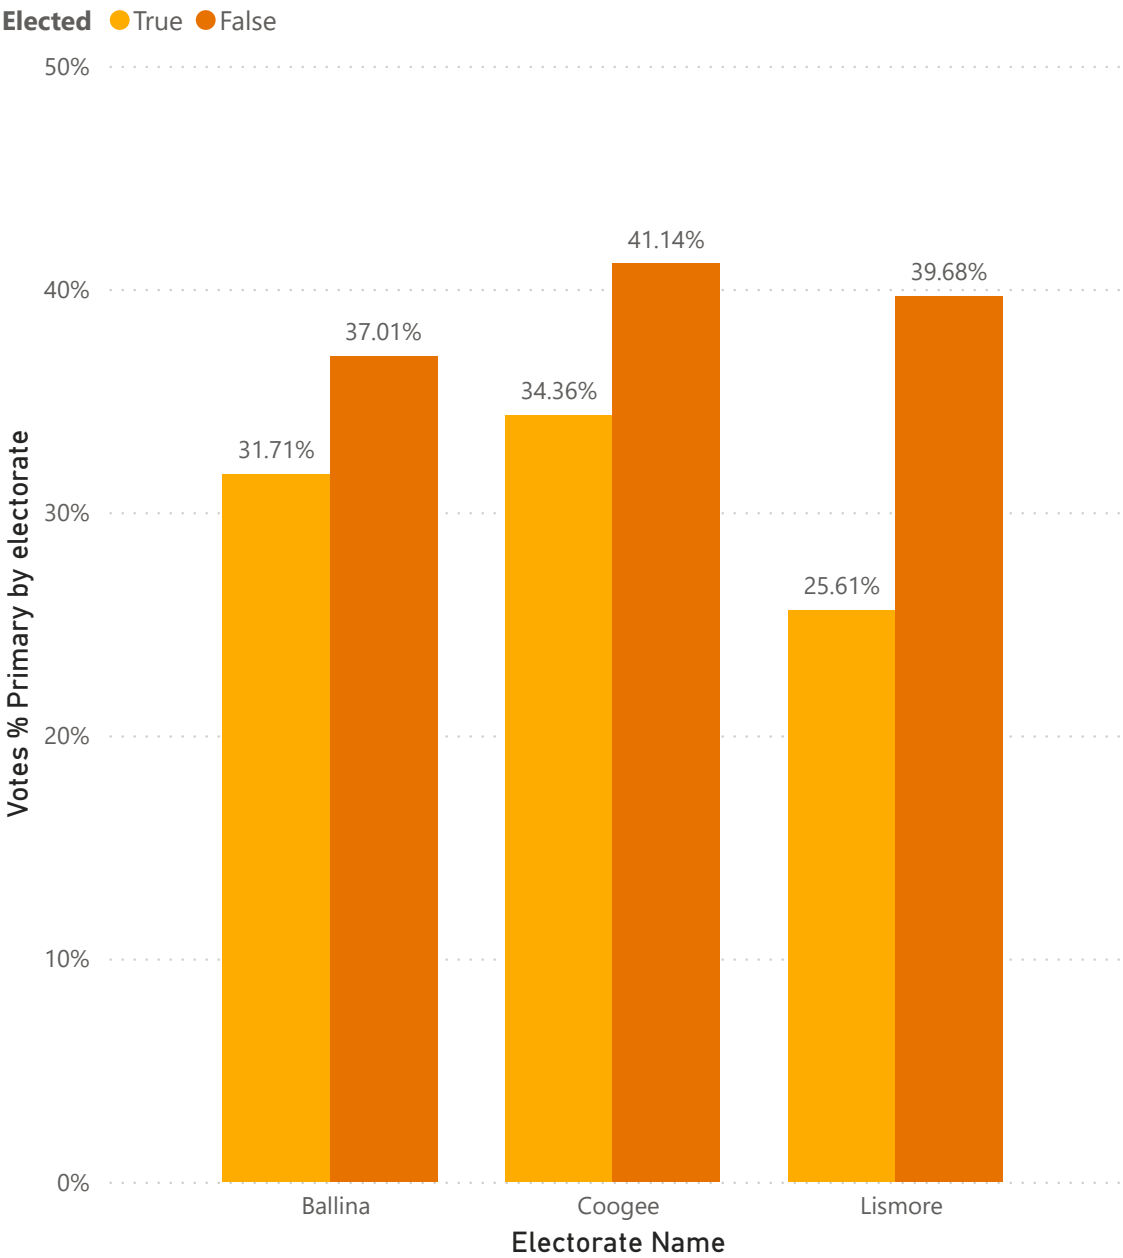

Electorate Name Slicer

☒ Ballina

☒ Coogee

☒ Lismore

Primary Votes % by Electorate

← Estimated Income and Party Elected

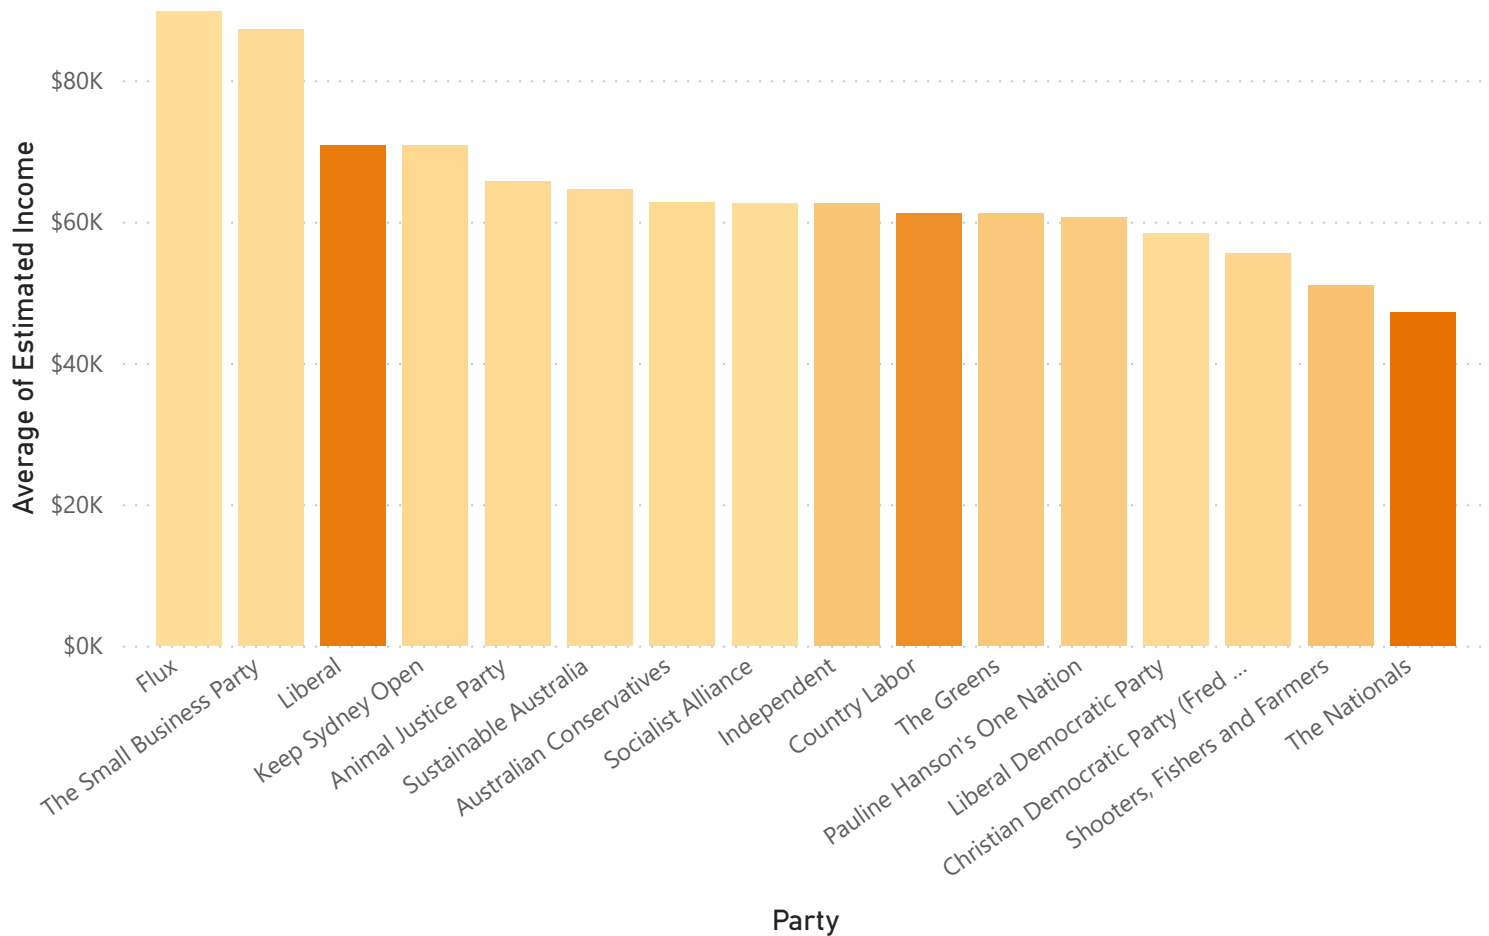

Top 10

Electorate Name	Income average est.	Party
Vaucluse	$160,043	Liberal
North Shore	$131,679	Liberal
Sydney	$123,402	Independent
Willoughby	$120,912	Liberal
Coogee	$108,050	Country Labor
Manly	$105,469	Liberal
Pittwater	$100,165	Liberal
Davidson	$98,762	Liberal
Balmain	$97,191	The Greens
Lane Cove	$96,121	Liberal

Bottom 10

Electorate Name	Income average est.	Party
Dubbo	$46,863	The Nationals
Bega	$46,846	Liberal
Clarence	$45,054	The Nationals
Orange	$44,093	Shooters, Fishers and Farmers
Oxley	$43,352	The Nationals
Tamworth	$43,036	The Nationals
Myall Lakes	$42,997	The Nationals
Lismore	$41,912	Country Labor
Barwon	$40,375	Shooters, Fishers and Farmers
Northern Tablelands	$37,785	The Nationals

Average of Estimated Income by Party (darker colour means more votes)

Note: income data from the ATO as 'Taxable income or loss'. Due to averaging and postcodes not corresponding perfectly to electorates, etc. they are to be used as a rough guide only. Other methods, such as 'combined household wealth' or something similar may be a better guide to prosperity. Vaucluse being at the top, for example, shows that there is still merit to these numbers.

Election Outcomes by Electorate

Electorate

☐ Albury

☐ Auburn

☐ Ballina

☒ Balmain

☐ Bankstown

☐ Barwon

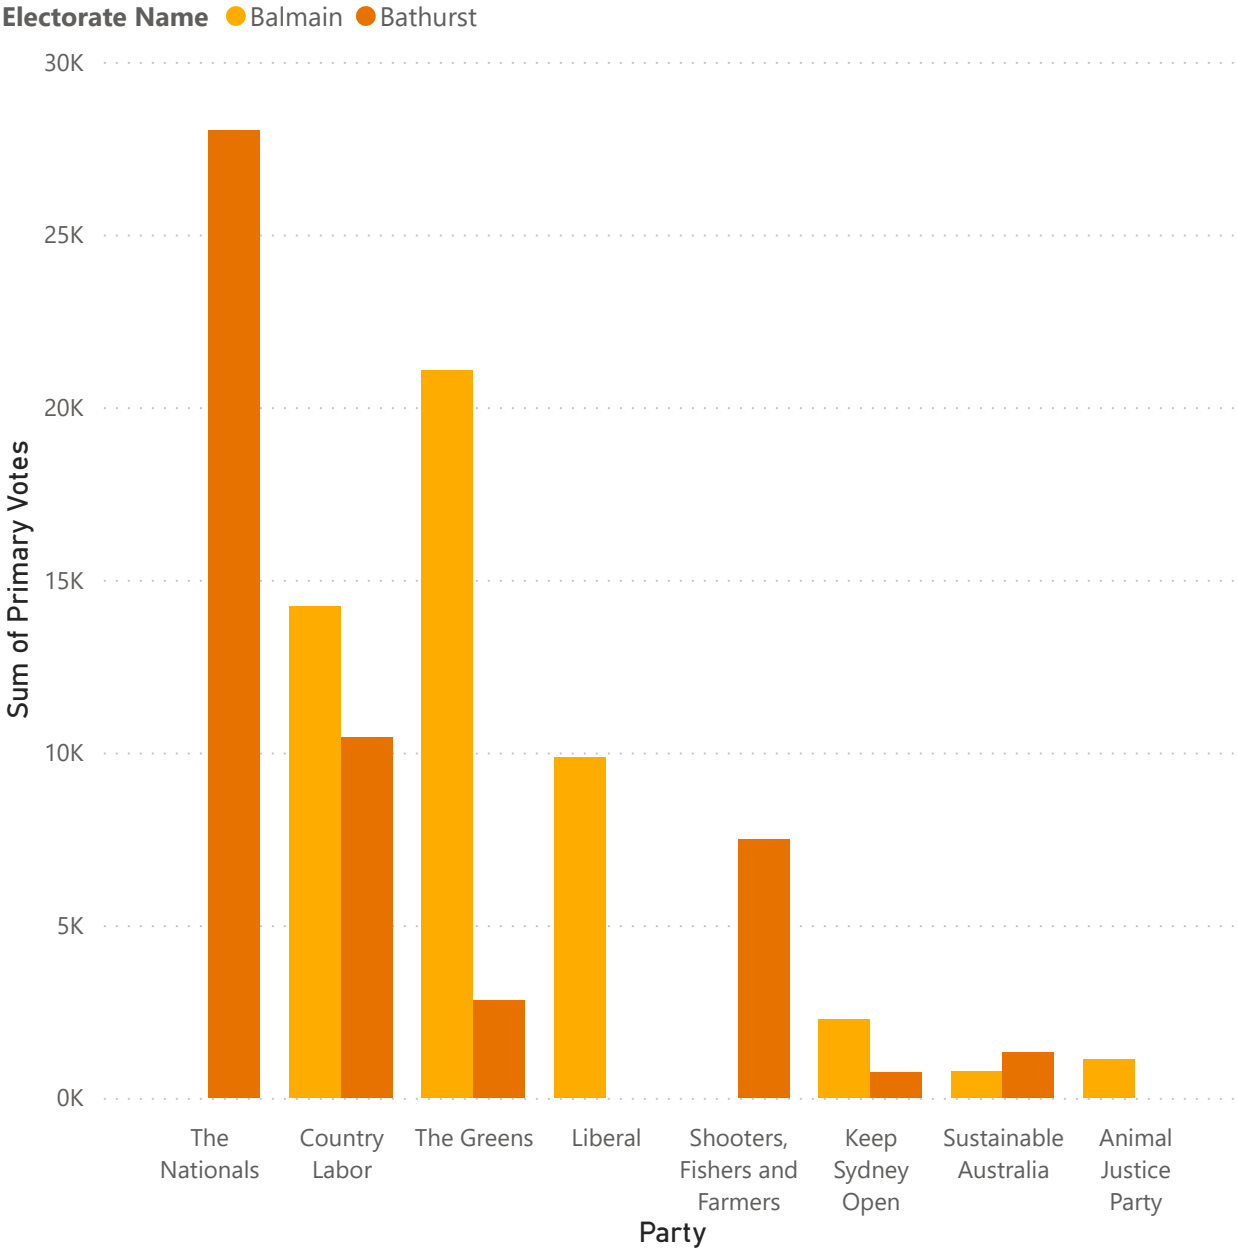

☒ Bathurst

☐ Baulkham Hills

☐ Bega

Electorate Name	Candidate Name	Primary Votes	Two-candidate preferred votes	Elected
Balmain	Parker, Jamie	21065	24074	True
Balmain	Howse, Elly	14227	16037	False
Balmain	Zhang, Wenjie (Ben)	9875		False
Balmain	Leonetti, Emilia	2268		False
Balmain	Finlayson, Anita	1103		False
Balmain	Dunnett, Angela	761		False
Bathurst	Toole, Paul	28030	30130	True
Bathurst	Riley, Beau	10438	14242	False
Bathurst	May, Brenden	7498		False
Bathurst	Harvey, David	2815		False
Bathurst	Begg, Michael	1317		False
Bathurst	Hansen, Timothy	735		False

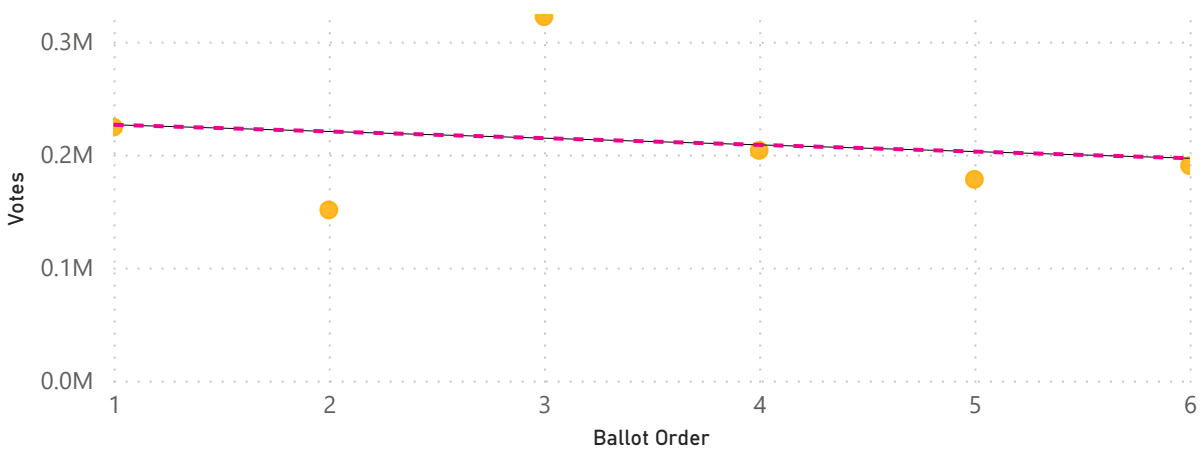

Sum of Primary Votes by Party and Electorate Name

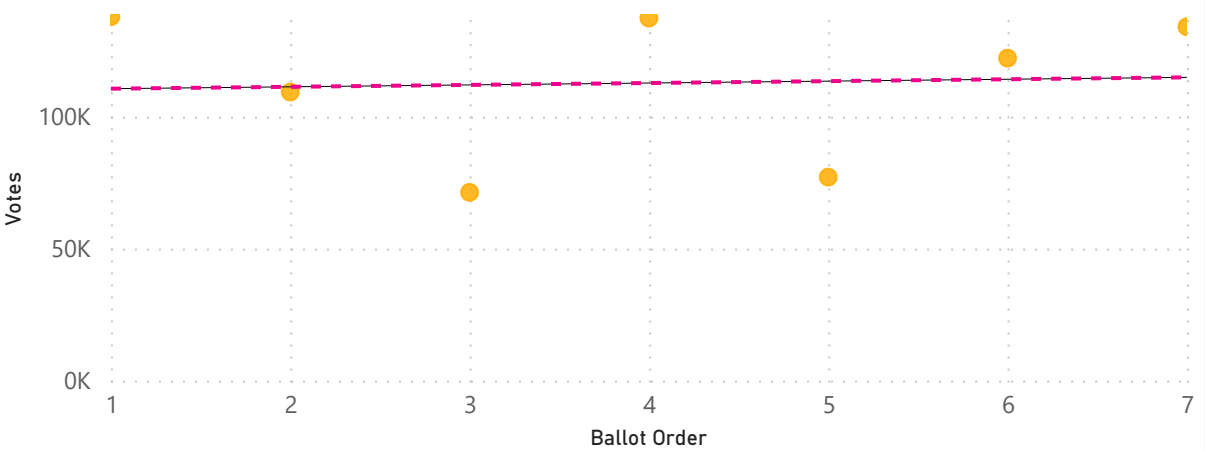

Ballot Order - anything interesting?

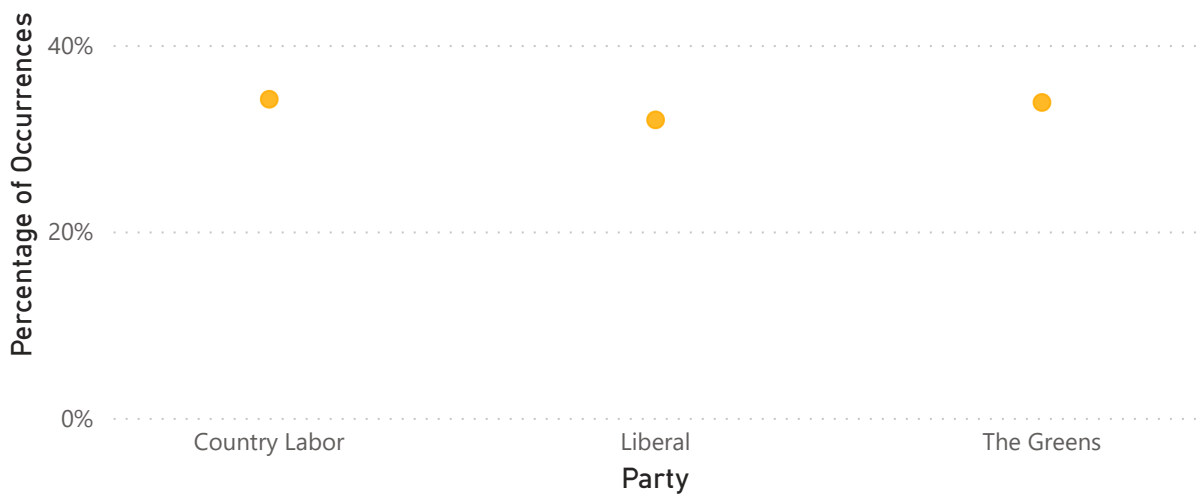

Votes by Ballot Order (electorates with 6 candidates)

Votes by Ballot Order (electorates with 7 candidates)

Number 1 spot on the ballot paper

Above we can see the ballot order and number of votes for all the electorates with six candidates (left), and seven candidates (right). From this, there is no particular pattern regarding order on the ballot paper. The only trend that may occur is that the first place on the paper gets more votes than the second place. In fact, this held true for all number of candidates in an electorate except for 9.

On the left is a quick check to see if the three major parties (who had candidates in most of the electorates) were evenly spread in how many times they appeared at the very top of the ballot paper. Nothing peculiar here.